1. Background – The patient is a 65-year-old male with a long history of hypertension, hyperlipidemia, and type 2 diabetes. He has been on treatment for these conditions for many years. He is currently on a combination of medications for his hypertension, including a thiazide diuretic, a beta-blocker, and a calcium channel blocker. His hyperlipidemia is managed with a statin, and his diabetes is controlled with a long-acting insulin and a rapid-acting insulin. He has no known allergies and is not taking any other medications.
